A FINAL RALLY AT CARNEGIE MUSIC HALL.

ELOQUENT SPEECHES BY EX-SENATOR HISCOCK, ELIHU ROOT, MISS BOSWELL, FRANK D.

PAVEY AND OTHERS. A mass-meeting was held last night at Carnegie Music Hall under the auspices of the Republican Campaign Club, of the XXVIIIIth Assembly District, in support of the Republican JAPANESE TRADING CO. State ticket and the New-York City Fusion ticket. Long before the hour announced for the opening of the proceedings the hall was 8 East 15th St., between Union Square and 5th Avenue two principal speakers of the evening were ex-United States Senator Frank Hiscock and Elihu Root, the former confining himself mainly to State affairs, while Mr. Root spoke chiefly upon the necessity, in the interests of good municipal government, of supporting the union The greatest enthusiasm prevailed various speakers being received with many outbursts of cheering. Edward W. Harris, the president of the club, presided, and with him on the platform were numerous well-known course of his remarks, he said:

It seems to me that it would be impossible to exaggerate the importance of the election next Tuesday. Twelve months ago the people of this city, laying aside party pride and party prejudice, determined to put an end to the misrule of Tammany Hall. That popular aprising was one of the most remarkable that has ever occurred in the history of American politics, it was unselfish and patriotic, and although here and there was some man or group of men who thought they could see in the enange of city government some opportunity for personal advantage, the great heart of the people of this city moved forward to the duty of destroying as far as they could the maiadministration of Tammany Hall with as unselfish a purpose as ever actuated a body of men in the United States. (Applause.) The people of New-York are how on trial. The issues are so plain and unmistakable that every one can understand them.

As true Republicans we must help to elect every single name on the union ticket. Without the assistance of our patriotic alites, we should be in a hopeless minority (Applause.)

a new policy, it stayed and stopped the work of

said in part:

We are closing a campaign of very extraordinary and interesting features. The apathy which charanterized the earlier period of the campaign has lately given way to an impulse that promises to seriously endanger the citadel of Tammany Hall. But there are many excellent gentlemen and public spirited citizens who conceived it their duty to insist upon nominating certain candidates for office and of advocatus their election to the total opnosition of every one else. These men who constitute they have done they were standing up for principle. But let no one deceive himself as to what principle really is. I apprehend that the principle of those gentlemen of whom I have spoken springs from a desire to have merely their own way and a determination to yield to no judgment but their own. Principle of that kind is neither heroic nor honorable. It is crankiness only, and they deserve to be taught a lesson.

Mr. Root closed by speaking in suppose to the color of the method of the Boody and Chapin campaigns. The Reform Bemocrats held a largely attended meeting at the Academy of Music last night. Angustus Healy presided, and speeches were made by Edward M. Shepard, Charles J. Patterson, Register of Arrears Hinrichs and others. While Charles J. Patterson was speaking he referred incidentally to the Columbian grandstand frauds in 182. Extalled the time, rose and said angrily:

"You are not telling the truth," "He is one of the "Cold Thirteen'!" shouted a man in the audience.

"You're a bloody lar!" returned Heaney.

A fight seemed imminent, and an officer hustled Heaney out of the building, while a hundred voices shouted: "Put the loafer out!"

QUICKER WORK WITH FOREIGN MAILS.

Mr. Root closed by speaking in support of Mayor Strong's administration, and eloquently appealing for the suffrages of the electors next Tuesday in favor of the Fusion ticket.

Miss Helen Varick Boswell, who was ne introduced, spoke in part as follows:

The door of political opportunity has indeed spend wide to women, and we are proud to stand viewed wide to women, and to say to all our citiens, "We are doing what we can we are yours or service." We helped to get out the registration we abouse-to-house canyases and now we are using or service. We helped to get cut the registration by a house-to-house canvass, and now we are using our influence to bring about a continuence of the lean and orderly municipal government under which we are now living, to continue in office our state officers, and to send to Albany such legislators as we can trust to formulate the laws the peode demand.

To women the real issue of this campaign is Tammany, or anti-Tammany. Tammany tried to force the excise issue to the front to divert the public mind from its internal rottenness and its exposed corruption. Should any honest, thoughtful, conscientious man hesitate for an instant as to where his duty lies? Surely not. A year ago Tammany was prophesying a victory by 45,000 majority. The figures were reversed and the anti-Tammany ticket won by 54,000. Plain Mr. Martin is again prophesying, and again, I believe, his predictions will be reversed.

After Miss Boswell had finished, a telegram from Edward Lauterbach was read, expressing ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEEShis disappointment at being unable to attend because of a bad cold.

Frank D. Pavey then spoke briefly of the imin his Senate district. Mr. French also spoke, and then the last speaker of the evening, John Proctor Cark, was introduced. He told of Tammany's boasted love for the poor man, and, as an instance of the Tiger's charitable work, the refusal of the old Dock Board to allow the floating hospital of St. John's Guild to use a city dock during the night hours, when it was not needed by the city.

A large and enthusiastic audience was in Columbus Hall, in Sixtleth-st., between Columbus and Amsterdam aves., despite the bad weather last evening, the occasion being a Republican mass-meeting in the XVIIth Senate District under the auspices of the regular organizations of the XVth, XVIIth and XIXth Assembly districts. The meeting was called to order by William H. Reliamy, ex-secretary of the Republican County Committee, and General O. H. La Grange was gnosen as president. Strong speeches were made by Mr. Bellamy, General La Grange's, Congressman Lemuel E. Quigg, ex-Governor John S. Wise, El-ward Lautertach, Charles B. Red flags were many and conspicuous in the procession, together with a profusion of red, white and blue lanterns, red fire and torches. There were also two floats in the line. On one was a girl representing the Goddess of Liberty, arrayed in the typical manner, holding a sword in one hand and an American flag in the other. General McCook then introduced Mr. Harris, who made a singularly effective speech. These reports, Mr. Steckler said, were based on re-ports which the district leaders had received from the election district captains, and from them it was considered certain that the three Independent Coun-ty candidates would receive $5.00) votes. While these estimates did not indicate the election of the candi-dates, Mr. Steckler said, they indicated a serious loss of Tammany votes, as most of the men who will vote for Alfred Steckler, Julius Harburger and Alexander Bremer are men who have formerly voted the Tammany ticket.

ment regarding the work of the hospital was made by the president, Mrs. Charles H. Raymond.

The New-York Red Cross Hespital Association was founded four years ago by the American National Red Cross Association, which itself was incorporated in 1864, at the time of the Red Cross Treaty. At first the Hospital Association had no headquarters, and consisted only of a few trained nurses, who went from house to house, among the rich and poor alke, as they were needed. By voluntary contributions enough money was finally raised to purchase the present hospital building, which was done one year ago, and a retular service was begun. The work of the hospital is to train nurses for indoor and outdoor work, no regular price being asked. Those benefited are requested to give what they can afford, and in that way the aim of the trustees, which is to make the rich pay for the poor. Is accomplished. Attached to the hospital there is a dispensary. Beside this, there are several sick wards for the accommodation of patients. There is a large staff of visiting surgeons, among whom are Dr. Robert Ellison, Dr. A. M. Lesser, Dr. G. Steger, Dr. Thomas McNichol, Dr. Adolph Zeh, Dr. H. D. Schwatzchied, Dr. Emil Mayer and Dr. M. Weill. The superintendent of the hospital is Miss C. A. Hofker.

The newly elected Board of Trustees is composed as follows: Mrs. Stephen E. Barton, Mrs. M. W. Araus, Miss M. W. Barton, Miss E. A. Hofker, Dr. E. Steger, Miss H. H. Cottrell and Stephen E. Barton.

FINE HOMES TO BE ERECTED.

WILLIAM WALDORF ASTOR'S PURCHASE IN FIFTH-AVE.

SEVERAL SPLENDED HOUSES PLANNED FOR THE PROPERTY AT FIFTH-AVE. AND FIF. TY-SIXTH-ST.

It is announced that the property at the northeast said to belong to Robert Bonner, has been secured by William Waldorf Astor. It has a complete frontage in Fifth-ave, of 50 feet and 150 feet in Fifty-sixth-st. It is understood that the purpose Mr. Astor is to erect four magnificent houses on this space of ground, divided as follows: 'A building at the corner of Fifth-ave, and Fifty sixth-st., with a frontage on the avenue of fifty feet and on the street of thirty-three feet, with an irregular depth extending northward from the building five stories high, with an American basement, the whole to be completed somewhat the style of the picturesque home of Willtam K. Vanderbilt at the northwest corner of Fiftysecond-st. and Fifth-ave., the architectural design which is of the style of Francis I period; the with dormer windows and towerlike abutments and projections. The three lots eastward from this normer building will be divided as follows: That mmediately adjoining the corner house, sixty-two feet from by thirty-three feet deep in the north ward line; the next to be thirty-three front on the street, with a depth of sixty-five feet, and adjoin the street, with a depth of sixty-five feet, and adjoin the street, with a depth of sixty-five feet, and adjoin the sixty-five feet ward line; the next to be thirty-three front on the street, with a depth of sixty-five feet, and adjoining this on the eastward a smaller one of twenty-two frontage on the street and a depth of 100 feet. It is the plan of the owner and the architect to provide on this space four choice houses in a style of perfect harmony and presenting what will appear to be in their grouping one superb structure, although each house will have individual external features. There will be brick trimmings matching the limestone; the interior will be highly finished in hardwood. No information is obtainable as to whether the houses are to be sold with the reservation of ground rent, or whether they are to be leased. The architects are Messrs, clinton & Russell, No. 32 Nassau-st.

These improvements will alter considerably the approach of the Park. For a long while these valuable lots have been unoccupied and presented a somewhat dilapidated appearance owing to the unfinished condition of the Huntington mansion at Fifty-seventh-st. It is a locality where blights of this kind are unexpected and discordant. The mansion of Cornelius Vanderbilt, recently enlarged and much improved in exterior finish, occupies the space, together with the carriage entrance and garden, extending from the northwest corner of Fifty-seighth-st, and directly overlocking the Plaza and beyond the entrance to the Park. At the southwest corner of Fifty-seventh-st, to the southwest corner of Fifty-seventh-st, the Huntington mansion at the southeast corner of Fifty-seventh-st, the Huntington mansion at the southeast corner of Fifty-seventh-st, and Fifth-ave, is the comfortable home of ex-Secretary William C. Whitney, while just west of him is the home of John D. Rockefeller. If the Huntington mansion at the southeast corner of Fifty-seventh-st, and Fifth-ave, is completed, with the block of buildings to be constructed by Mr. Astor, the group will be one of the finest aggregations of homes in the city.

Mr. Craig reported to Dr. Lederle yesterday that the larvae were those of the corethra pleunicoris, a two-winged fly, which feeds on insects. The larvae are known as the ghost, or phantom, larvae, on account of the light stringy substance which connects the two small black objects that make a part of the larvae. Dr. Lederle still declines to make public the name of the dealer who sent the larvae to the Health Department.

FIFTH BANQUET OF THE TURTLE CLUB,

A SURPRISE SPRUNG IN SERVING THE ICE CREAM. The Sullivan County Turtle Club, which was organized in 1880, held its fifth annual banquet at the Hotel Brunswick last evening. The club num bers thirty members, and the dinner was tendered to George W. Van Allen, William H. Van Allen and C. Frank Boughton. an extensive hunting and fishing preserve in Sullivan County. Several turtles were artistically placed about the The electrical effects were brilliant, and the dinner was of exceptional merit.

The souvenirs were startling. When it came time to serve the ices the waiter placed at the plate all the candidates working like beavers, and using the figures afforded by the Schieren administration relative to honesty and economy with telling time to serve the ices the waiter placed at the plate of each guest an imitation turtle with automatically arginst the corrupt ring, whose managers are ally moving head, legs and tail. A musical entertainment, with addresses, was given under the auspices of the East Side Juvenile Protective League, the Institute Street-Cleaning League and Clean City clubs for the parents and friends of the clean streets movement at Arlington Hall, No. 19 St. Mark's Place, yesterday afternoon. A large and folly crowd of boys and girls, accompanied by their friends and relatives, were present. School Commissioner Philip Meirowitz presided. On the platform were Mayor Strong, Street-Cleaning Commissioner Waring, Assemblyman Conkling, Alexander S. know who keeps the streets clean. It is this boys' brigade. Not long ago these boys called upon me. The spokesman was a little chap, and after saying to me, "Now, Mr, Mayor"— he broke down. I brought aim around by teiling him that in a back room I had some tea which I would give it was the fact that he wasn't going to get any

I regard the ballot as one of the most important features of citizenship. By the ballot 4,000,000 slaves were freed and all reforms made. The future welfare of the country depends on how your boys vote. Abraham Lincoln and James A. Garfield were once boys like you. There may be some future Presidents of this country among you. Some of you have got to be Mayors, some Governors and many of you Aldermen. You boys must educate yourselves to be loyal citizens of this Government. I have no doubt that when you become of age you will yote conscientiously.

And you young girls have the greatest duty to perform. You have got to get married, you have got to take the places of your mothers; you have got to be mothers. Unless you educate yourselves to be good and noble women, you will not be able to perform your future duties well. In order to have good boys we must have good girls.

There is an old saying that "the hand that rocks the ciralle rocks the world." My mother lived to be ninety-four years old. I can say what few boys can, that I was never separated from my mother from the time of my birth until her death. I believe I owe to her everything I am. I was a bad boy; she was a good mother.

about his mother. His voice trembled and his eyes filled with tears.

Colonel Waring said that a politician came to him some time ago and asked him to remove several men in his department who were going to support Tammany Hall. It would be impossible to carry the election on the East Side under such conditions, according to the politician. The politician wanted men appointed who would support the Fusion ticket. 'I told the politician,' said commissioner Waring, "that I wouldn't remove men for such reasons. I told him I had a plan to help him, though. I would ask Assistant Superintendent Drescher to get a hall on the East Side and have the children raily to the support of the cause of good government. This would do more good than drive a few men out of their places. You are old enough, boys and girls, to convince every man of his duty to himself, to his family and to the city, and that it is the duty of every man to uphoid the policies of the present government.'

Miss Richmond, who is active in the work of the Hebrew Institute, said she hoped women would never vote in this city.

Cheers were frequently given for Mayor Strong and Colonel Waring. Walle Assemblyman Conkiling was speaking some one asked where was Tammany, and the boys and girls in chorus responded: "In the soup."

THE WEATHER VESTERDAY AND TO-DAY. The first sleet of the season fell yesterday, and it was followed by one of the most disagreeable days New-York has had this fall. The sleet began falling at 7:49 a. m. and continued until about 10:15, when it turned into rain, which continued throughout the day. The temperature varied between 40 and 36 degrees, while for the corresponding day last week the mercury ranged between 40 and 50 degrees. For to-day the weather prophets promise fair and slightly cooler weather, with northwesterly winds. High winds may be expected by mariners along the South Atlantic coast.

The weather was further diversified last night by a flurry of snow, which began at 11 o'clock and lasted for a short time. The flakes were unusually large, and for a brief period the snow came down thick and fast.

The first snow fell last winter on November 9. The snow was moist, meiting as soon as it struck the ground, and the flakes were nearly the size of a silver quarter. According to the Weather Bureau, the great size of the flakes was caused by the temperature, which was just at the point between meiting and freezing, or rain and snow. ing at 7:40 a. m. and continued until about 10:15,

THE STAR THRATRE REOPENED.

The Star Theatre was reopened last night by its new lessee, Neil Burgess. It has been redecorated and presents a bright and attractive appearance. In that statement the praise due to the venture begins and ends. Of the play in which Mr. Burgess presented himself last night it is impossible to speak the terms of respect which apply to the judgment of any serious dramatic works. It is entitled "The Year One." The scene is laid in Rome, and Mr. Burgess appears as the Emperor Augustus and as a Vestal Virgin. Costly and beautiful stage sets are shown, and but for them the affair is rubbish of a sort that is positively indescribable. The scenes are not long, for the waits between the acts last night not long, for the waits between the acts last night occupied, as it seemed, far more than half of the whole time of performance, but they contain scarcely a single bright line or incident from beginning to end. Ali is out of character, vapid, dull, childish and stupid to a degree of which it is impossible to convey any notion to one who has not seen the play. The unfailing patience of the American public was never better proved than by the fact that the audience sat through the piece. It was probably moved to do so by the promise of an exciting chariot race in the last act. When the race came is was so wretchedly tame that it only crowned the disappointment of the evening. In treating of such an affair as this it is useless to try to be kind or considerate. The failure was complete and irredeernable. It was grotesquely bad and desolately hopeless.

THE WEATHER REPORT.

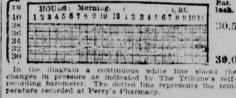

HIGH BAROMETER ON THE ATLANTIC COAST. Washington, Nov. 2.—The harometer has risen rapidly on the Atlantic Coast, except to the southeast of New-Coast during the day, and dangerous northeast gales now prevail in Southern New-England, Showers have prevalled on the Atlantic Coast north of North Carollina, followed by clearing weather south of North Carollina, followed by clearing weather south of New-York, Fair weather continues in the central valleys and Southern States, it is colder on the Atlantic Coast and warmer in the Mississippi Valley.

The indications are that warmer, fair weather will prevail in the Southern States, the Ohio Valley and the Middle Atlantic States and the lower lake region on Sounday.

For New-England, rain and snow in eastern portions, followed by clearing weather; fair in western portions; northerly winds; slightly warmer in southern and west ern portions Sunday evening. Dangerous gales on the For Eastern New-York, Eastern Pennsylvania, New-Jersey and Delaware, generally fair; slightly warmer Sunday, northerly winds, becoming variable. For Otho, West Virginis, Western Pennsylvania and Western New-York, warmer; fair, southerly winds.

TRIBUNE LOCAL OBSERVATIONS.

Tribune Office, Nov. 3, 1 a. m.-The weather yesterday was colder and rainy. The temperature ranged between 30 and 40 degrees, the average (55%) being 11% degrees lower than on Friday and 18% degrees lower than on the corresponding day last year.

The weather to-day is likely to be fair and slightly warmer.

MATTER REFERRED TO THE PRESI-

Washington, Nov. 2-The official speed of the Ammen ram Katahdin is 16.13 knots, as reported to Secretary Herbert to-day by the trial board, and the vessel stands rejected under her contract, bearing the distinction of being the first vesse; of the ne Navy failing to reach contract requirements. Unless special provision is made at the next session of Congress, or a compromise is reached, the Bath Iron Works, of Maine, which built the hull and machinery, must rely upon selling her to some foreign Government to recoup their expenditures, which case a complication would arise, as $400,000 worth of armor belonging to the United States is fastened in place on the vessel, and is valueless for other purposes. Secretary Herbert said that he was powerless to waive the specifications of the contract, which stipulated that unless the ram developed seventeen knots or over the vessel should be rejected. a long conference with General Hyde, the builder the Secretary, however, consented to take care of the vessel at the New-York Navy Yard pending further consideration of the matter by President the vessel at the New-York Navy Yard pending the vessel at the New-York Navy Yard pending further consideration of the matter by President further consideration of the matter by President Cleveland. No efforts will be spared to effect some Cleveland decides that a modification in the contract speed requirements would not injuriously affect the Government's interests.

Unlike contracts for other naval vessels, which provided for certain forfeitures if a certain fixed speed were not secured, an iron-ciad clause was placed in the Katabilin agreement compelling her to show seventeen knots under penalty of rejection. The vessel was of a wholy novel and experimental character, and for this reason few of the builders of warships responded to the advertisements issued for proposals. Secretary Tracy finally induced President Hyde, of the Bath Iron Works, to undertake the contract, giving assurance, as it is said, that the Department would be disposed to be lenient; if it were demonstrated that the vessel's design was defective. The keel was laid in 1891, and ever since that time frequent modifications have had to be made in the plans because of defects discovered. This ship was delayed two years by the failure of the larm contractors to fill their contract, and in the last year four different sets of propellers have had to be tried on the vessel as the result of as many experimental runs. Naval officers still after to the belief that under favorable conditions in the smooth water for which the Katabilin was designed she could easily make the required seventeen knots. Her contractors, however, prefer not to run the risk of forcing her higher than they did on Thursday, and prefer to leave the whole matter to President Cleveland, relying on his fairness to suggest a just settlement.

New-London, Conn., Nov. 2.—The ram Katabilin was this evening ordered to the Brocklyn Navy New-London, Conn., Nov. 2.-The ram Katahdin was this evening ordered to the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and will leave here at 7 o'clock Monda? morning. The Naval Board was discharged on orders from Washington this evening. Many members have left the city, and others will go to-night. In conversation with C. E. Hyde prior to his departure for Boston this evening, he said that the story that the ram had been rejected was erroneous. He had no idea the Government would reject her. Her speed on the official trial was practically 16.13 knots, but if it becomes necessary, slight changes will be made in her machinery so she will make the required seventeen knots. If this is done the work will be performed at Bath, where the ram can be taken and the work done in the winter, as the company will not ask for a second trial in winter weather. The ram is ordered to the Brooklyn yard according to custom, that her machinery may be examined by Government engineers. morning. The Naval Board was discharged on THE CENTURY DICTIONARY AND CYCLOPEDIA.

In commenting upon the brilliant close of the recent distribution of the Century Dictionary and Cyclopedia. The Tribune casually expressed the be Hef that, in view of the somewhat unexpected and widespread interest in the work, the allotment of 10,000, instead of 1,000, sets might easily have been undertaken. This belief was unmistakably con-firmed during the day succeeding the close, which brought hundreds of letters of inquiry, and many urgent requests, from both local and remote points, touching another distribution and hinting at griev-ous disappointment in case the same could not be ous disappointment in case the same could not be arranged.

The Tribune does not wish to disappoint its readers, who have stood by it through many a political campaign, and immediately opened negotiations with the Century Company, which resulted in an arrangement for 10,000 complete sets, 190,000 volumes, to be furnished Tribune readers. This arrangement, equally favorable as to price, will present to readers everywhere another opportunity to secure the best and most expansive general reference work, of which The Tribune knows, on a plan and on terms which must be accounted simple and easy, the details of which may be gleaned from an advertisement on another page
